& Furnishings

Located one block from the Highway 5 and 62 Business (Main Street) intersection in one of the oldest Victorian homes in Mountain Home.

“Where Framing Becomes Art” – After working with custom framer George Pickett for 10 years, Debbie opened First Street Framing & Art Gallery in 1998. She combines “old school” craftsmanship with the newest framing equipment, techniques, and products. Special orders are welcome. A print locator service is available in addition to the limited and open edition prints and sculpture on display. Debbie offers all types of needlework framing.

Services & Products: Custom framing with standard or archival museum quality mats, glass and frames; designer jewelry – select from many original designs utilizing vintage and faux jewelry; unique ready made cloisonné, pottery, and jewel photo frames; limited and open edition prints.
